RE: Arts Group to promote public awareness and community involvement of the Arts in Vaughan

Eric Levine announced today the formation of the local arts group, 'Arts Vaughan', created to promote public awareness and community involvement of the Arts in the City of Vaughan. Arts Vaughan exists primarily, to connect individual artists, patrons of the arts and the various arts groups in the City thus creating a social network from which to build upon for future development of the Arts in Vaughan.

On Tuesday September 27th between 7:00pm and 9:00pm, members of the Vaughan community are invited to participate in an open forum to exchange ideas and discuss the issues surrounding future development of the Arts in Vaughan.

Visit www.ArtsVaughan.com for further information.

Arts Vaughan is a new association and first of its kind specific to the arts in Vaughan which is be open to all members of the community. Arts Vaughan is poised to appoint an executive board and interested members are encouraged to apply.

Artists in particular, from all creative disciplines and all levels of development who reside in Vaughan are encouraged to sign up. Membership to Arts Vaughan is currently free and offers free internet links from the Arts Vaughan website for local artists who wish to link their website to the Arts Vaughan network.
